

PSYCG 1526 : Personality Assessment I

This course introduces the student to the administration, interpretation, and scoring of the objective tests for personality assessment. Tests examined include the MMPI2, PAI, and Millon Scales. Basic interpretation and report writing skills are taught for the objective personality assessment instruments. Biopsychosocial, cultural, ethnic, gender, and disability factors affecting assessment validity and interpretation are also examined.

College

Clinical Psychology Program

Credits 4.0

Prerequisites

PSYCG 1572 Psychopathology: Anxiety-based and Personality Disorders, PSYCG 1573 Psychopathology: Psychotic and Mood Disorders